McKenna Video Services Earns 2007 AVP Honors

(Puyallup, WA) Puyallup, WA based McKenna Video Services announced today that they earned an “Award for Excellence in Video Production” from the Association of Video Professionals earlier this month. The recognition came at the 2007 AVP Video Festival held in Atlanta on September 14.

“To be recognized by our peers is a great complement to us and our staff,” says Chris McKenna, owner of McKenna Video. “AVP consists of highly experienced and capable video producers and recognition of our work from them is very encouraging.”

The award McKenna Video received was based on a highlight “reel” of a wedding that the McKenna’s filmed earlier in the year. This highlight reel was a highly condensed version of the entire wedding video, and encompassed some creative aspects of video production without the use of post-production special effects.

To view the video or to get additional information, call Chris or Lynette McKenna at 253-539-3438. For more information on their products or services, visit their website at www.mckennavideo.com .
